A Gentle Reminder

Please contact the parish office when a person has recovered from an illness or no longer serves in the military so this information may be updated accordingly.

Friends,

Palm Sunday puts us in the middle of a paradox. On the one hand, we are filled with joy. As Jesus enters Jerusalem, throngs of people rejoice. But then, on the other hand, we turn towards the sorrowful, our Lord's rejection, suffering, and death - with his passion. Palm Sunday is also Passion Sunday. It is a solemn, silent moment.

Today, the Holy Spirit wants to teach how to live this paradox more deeply. We can do this by praying more intimately with Christ and coming together for the special liturgies during Holy Week. If we live this week well, seven days from now, we will know Christ's love for us better and be better able to experience authentic Christian joy, even in life's trials. We should be grateful for the freedom we have in this country to celebrate Holy Week, a freedom not all Catholics enjoy.

We should also be grateful for our faith, that precious gift that is the key to living these days fruitfully. But many people around us do not have this faith. We know neighbors, colleagues, and even family members who have turned from Jesus. Maybe life's challenges made them fall into temptation, trading in their true Christian faith for some other, more fashionable worldview. They are not sharing in Christ's victory, not even a little bit.

Let's celebrate this holiest week of the year, sharing it with the lost and broken. By telling them how Jesus loves them so much, He died for them. Pope John Paul II used to say that the best way to grow in our own faith was by giving it away to others. This week, strengthened by our celebration today, let's put that theory to the test. Christ's victory is too precious to keep to ourselves.

Blessings,

Fr. Steve

Amigos,

El Domingo de Ramos nos sitúa en medio de una paradoja. Por un lado, estamos llenos de alegría. Cuando Jesús entra en Jerusalén, multitudes de personas se alegran. Pero luego, por otro lado, nos volvemos hacia lo doloroso, el rechazo, el sufrimiento y la muerte de nuestro Señor - con su pasión. El Domingo de Ramos es también el Domingo de la Pasión. Es un momento solemne, silencioso.

Hoy, el Espíritu Santo quiere enseñarnos a vivir más profundamente esta paradoja. Podemos hacerlo rezando más íntimamente con Cristo y reuniéndonos en las liturgias especiales de la Semana Santa. Si vivimos bien esta semana, dentro de siete días conoceremos mejor el amor de Cristo por nosotros y seremos más capaces de experimentar la auténtica alegría cristiana, incluso en las pruebas de la vida. Debemos estar agradecidos por la libertad que tenemos en este país para celebrar la Semana Santa, una libertad de la que no gozan todos los católicos.

También debemos estar agradecidos por nuestra fe, ese don precioso que es la clave para vivir con fruto estos días. Pero muchas personas a nuestro alrededor no tienen esta fe. Conocemos a vecinos, colegas e incluso familiares que se han apartado de Jesús. Tal vez los desafíos de la vida les han hecho caer en la tentación, cambiando su verdadera fe cristiana por otra visión del mundo más de moda. No participan de la victoria de Cristo, ni siquiera un poquito.

Celebremos esta semana, la más santa del año, compartiéndola con los perdidos y quebrantados. Diciéndoles cómo Jesús los ama tanto, que murió por ellos. El Papa Juan Pablo II solía decir que la mejor manera de crecer en nuestra propia fe era regalándola a los demás. Esta semana, fortalecidos por nuestra celebración de hoy, pongamos a prueba esa teoría. La victoria de Cristo es demasiado preciosa para guardárnosla.

Bendiciones,

Fr. Steve
